This week the Green Team has exciting news! The new chicken coop at the primary campus has arrived. We had to test it out and think the chickens will be very happy in their new home. We are just waiting on some wood shavings and sand to be delivered.

As you know the new herb garden went in near the greenhouse. We used a heap of pavers from under the school to separate the garden into smaller sections. This makes it easier for us to reach what we plant.

So that no-one stands in the gardens or on our plants we have put in some wire that is acting as a trellis. We have planted peas in front of it and they are starting to grow up the wire.

On Tuesday we planted strawberries and strasberries in one of the gardens near the greenhouse and we planted peas to grow up the wire that Mrs Quayle put in to stop people standing in the garden bed. We can’t wait for these to grow, especially the strasberries. They sound really yummy.

Our cabbages had grown to perfection, according to Erin. So on Thursday Green Team were very keen and excited to be harvesting them.

Finally, we found more little critters getting a free feed on broccoli and cauliflower. We have been using the Derris dust but we don’t think it is working. We will have to invest in some netting to stop the butterflies and moths laying their eggs on our vegetables.
